Greenest hotels

The Radisson Blu Hotel, Galway has finished fifth in Ireland's top ten Green Hotels, as verified by The Green Hospitality Programme. Based on 2013 environmental benchmark figures produced by hotels, The Green Hospitality Programme has produced its first league table listing for the Greenest Hotels in Ireland, reflecting what Irish hotels are doing to reduce their environmental footprint. Benchmarks for waste, energy water and carbon footprint were considered.

The Radisson Blu Hotel, Galway City has been a Green Hospitality Member since 2008 and holds the Green Hospitality Gold Award. It rated highly in the waste, water and energy efficiency categories. Coming out on top was The Westport Woods Hotel.
