

Hotel hosts free Green Hospitality workshop

THE Sandymount Hotel is hosting a free workshop entitled Introduction to Responsible Tourism on Wednesday, December 3.

The workshop, which is designed to introduce hospitality businesses to the opportunities that responsible tourism can deliver to the sector, and ultimately save them money, is being run in conjunction with Green Hospitality.

The programme, operated within the hotel, follows guidelines and criteria from Green Hospitality to enable employees and guests to reduce and reuse wherever possible.

The Southside hotel has made €39,000 in savings in this year alone as a result of introducing some very simple procedures recommended by the programme.

The half day event will cover a number of topics and will run from 9.30am to 12.30pm.

To register for the workshop or for more information see www.greenhospitality.ie or email info@greenhospitality.ie
